has not been eliminated.

It cannot be over-emphasized that there is an imperative need for Topaz residents to realize that even here the observance of traffic rules which have been applied in normal urban life is necessary in the interest of preserving life and property.

Among the most common precautions for pedestrians and vehicles drivers are: Walk on the side of the street facing oncoming traffic, drive within the speed limits, and slow down or stop at intersections.

Two New Year's Eve dances are scheduled for tonight, it was announced by the Community Activities Section. All residents are invited to attend the city-wide dance at Dining Hall 1 from 8:30

Ralph Barnhart arrived Tuesday to assume his duties as project attorney. In addition to serving as legal advisor to the local administration, the Community Government and the Consumer Enterprises, he will also render legal advice to individual residents.

7 CONTESTANTS WIN PRIZES IN AMATEUR SHOW

Cy Nakao and 10-year-old Rayko Oshima, both vocalists, tied for first place in the first amateur talent contest which took place Wednesday night at DM.1. Goro Suzuki was emcee and Sadie Towata was piano accompanist for the contestants. One thousand residents jammed the hall to witness the show.

The five others who were among the first seven winners, selected by 7 judges, were as follows: Yoshio Wada, impersonation of Carmen Miranda; Lily Ann Harada, pianist; Mickey Takaki, impersonation of Ted Lewis; Akiko Kataoka, tap dancer; and Joe Takeuchi, harmonica player.

Project Director Charles F. Ernst presented the awards to the winners. The first two winners were judged by audience applause and inasmuch as the volume of applause was equally strong for Cy Nakao and Rayko Oshima, the cash prize of $5 for first place and $3 for second was split between the two. The other five received one dollar each.

The judges for the contest were Mrs. Ed Kitow, Fred Koba, Kim Obata, Dr. Henry Takahashi, James Hirano, Iwao Kawakami and Ben Furuta, a visitor from Poston.
